

MB SUMMIT OF MINDS

POWERED BY
MONTHLY BAROMETER

The MB Summits of Minds, powered by the Monthly Barometer for its community members, combine high-level, cutting edge content with inspiring contributors sourced from the worlds of politics, business, investment, academia, and civil society.

Held over a number of days in outstanding locations, the Summits combine high-level thinking, access to an exceptional network and mind-stretching conversations in an informal atmosphere defined by mutual trust and serendipitous encounters. This exceptional alchemy is further enhanced by “walkshops” out in nature peppered with micro-sessions and memorable shared experiences outdoors and in.

A NEW IDEA, A NEW FRIEND, A NEW PROJECT

The ambitious promise we make to our participants (all prominent business leaders, entrepreneurs, investors, policy makers, and thinkers) is that they will leave the Summit enriched by new connections, inspired by actionable insights and armed with tangible outcomes.

AN ANTIDOTE TO SILO-THINKING

The MB Summits of Minds' dynamic is derived from carefully-crafted programmes, articulated around two major threads:

- Key macro issues (economics, environment, geopolitics, society and tech) and how they are likely to evolve and interact and the impact this has on decision making.
- Themes at the intersection of natural capital and the great outdoors, and their fundamental contribution to our planetary, societal and individual wellbeing.

Everyone lends their voice and minds.

The Summit programmes feature prominent thinkers and practitioners ideally placed to tease out innovative ideas and actionable insights. While named speakers frame the conversation, all participants are potential speakers.

GOOD4NATURE PRIZE

NATURE IS NOT "FREE", IT'S PRICELESS

MB Summits of Minds have always had a strong focus on the appeal and relevance of nature. Amongst our guests there is systematically an important showing of entrepreneurs, experts, investors, activists and policy-makers focusing on natural capital.

Nature makes an indispensable input to economic activity, and by overlooking its fundamental role we under-estimate the risks posed by environmental damage to both economic growth and human welfare.

The good4nature prize, is awarded at MB Summits of Minds to a start-up operating at the confluence of Nature and Tech.

PARTICIPANT FEEDBACK

"Many thanks for convening what was arguably the most stimulating conference I've been to in the last few years. I enjoyed the discussions and just the close-knit bond between each of the participants. It really feels like a community."

"A brilliant and compelling concept – these informal gatherings of top people in inspiring locations are always outstanding."

"You have managed to create an atmosphere of trust, where our specific trajectories are secondary to our underlying sense of shared humanity. I think this is vital in this time of increasing polarization, and a true nourishment for the soul. I've been inspired, and I leave the summit with new ideas, new friends and new projects."

"I found the Summit fascinating. The focus on sustainability and climate change was perfect - and I particularly liked the walking and talking..."

"Great congratulations to you for this wonderful Summit. Your Summit represents not only great ideas, but also a wholesome way of life, connected with the outdoors and firmly rooted in human wellbeing."

"Congratulations on a very successful event. It has demonstrated that you are leading the recovery of international conferencing in person. I really enjoyed the discussion of highly interesting sessions and bilateral exchanges with friends, old and new."

"The calibre of panellists and delegates was superb, and the whole event was extraordinarily well curated."

"It is not that difficult to create an event with world class speakers. It is an entirely different matter to create an event and attract an outstanding audience. In the arts there is a saying: every artist must create and educate his own audience. I think that is what you achieved, a rare thing it is, indeed."
